CHAMBERS OF
SAMUEL C. COLEMAN
JUSTICE

Dear Prof. Calamandrei,

To my chagrin, I find that I have not written to you about Mr. Caskey. On his return to this country he told me of the very warm welcome he ^{and his wife} received from your wife and ^{from} you, as well as from my other acquaintances at the University. I was pleased to hear this from him. I knew that he would be delighted to meet the two of you.

You may be interested in the enclosures. They represent some of the benefits I derived from my stay abroad last year;

and merely looking at them
makes me nostalgic.

My wife and I wish to be remembered to your wife. We hope you are both well, and perhaps we shall see one another again, here or in Italy.

Sincerely yours,
Samuel C. Colman
