Illustre Professore:

May I express to you my very great admiration for your work "La Cassazione," the first volume of which I have had the pleasure of reading. It is a performance of surpassing merit and one which, I am sure, is destined to become a classic in procedural science. I have been the more interested in the subject, because of certain work which I am now doing in translating and editing Engelmann's "Geschichte" and other materials to compose a "History of Continental Civil Procedure"

I am taking the liberty of sending to you an article which I have written on the so-called "Prinzipien der Gestaltung" of the German procedureists. Some time ago I ventured to print a brief extract from your work in the Illinois Law Review. I am also sending you the number containing it.

With cordial regards, I am yours sincerely

Robert W. Millar
